

MAR 2010

Week 3

Newsletter

The contents of your box this week will be made up of the following:

Name	Method	Source
Potatoes	No Spray	Tenterden
Parsnips	No Spray	Sandwich
Cauli	No Spray	Wye
Tomatoes	No Spray	Ash
Cookers		Maidstone
Apples		Maidstone

Well the warmer weather certainly cheers me up. When I was younger I used to prefer the colder months, but not now. I stood out earlier this week in the sun, and I could really feel the warmth penetrating my body and it felt really good. I might become a druid actually thinking about it. Hopefully the veg feel the same way, and this week will have certainly encouraged the rhubarb. I really cannot wait much longer.

This week is fish box week as well so those of you who are getting one should find a nice selection. I am not always sure what will be in the box as it depends on the boats, but I will be in Hythe early Thursday morning collecting it all. The boats deliver it very early Thursday and it is filleted for us literally 50m from where the boats land. I am hoping we get some wild bass this week.... fingers crossed.

I have been off work a bit this week, looks like I have a lung infection... I am only going to be able to do a short letter again, sorry. I promise to be back in full throw next week.